Britain and France Are in Full Accord On Turkish Matters

Agree on Principle That Dardanelles and Bosphorus Must Be Kept Free—France Wishes Legitimate Aspirations of Turks Safeguarded—Venice Conference Postponed

BRITISH GOVERNMENT HAS INVITED SOME ASSURANCES

LONDON, Sept. 12.—France notified the British Government today that she was in accord with Great Britain regarding the freedom of the Dardanelles and the Bosphorus, and was ready to discuss anything tending to a settlement, provided the legitimate aspirations of the Turks were safeguarded.

MAY PENETRATE ARGONAUT MINE

Rescue Workers Expect to Reach Shaft by Tomorrow—Fears That Few Miners Are Now Alive

JACKSON, Cal., Sept. 12.—"Forty-eight hours more and the miners will be released," was the statement made tonight when word came that the last hauler to the Argonaut mine will be broken through late Thursday night or early Friday morning.

Although no signals have been heard from the forty-seven men since the first 4 minutes of their imprisonment on August 27, veteran miners believe that a few of the stronger and more experienced men are still alive, saying that the number will be easily counted on the fingers of one hand. Others firmly believe that all have been killed by the deadly poison fumes that have filled the burning mine for the last two weeks.

Officials who have been dragging along, tired, weary and with broken spirits, sleeping but three or four hours each night for the last two weeks, were keenly active today and alert for the final struggle. Once more women began flocking to the adjoining Kennedy mine, from which the rescue crews are working, and it is thought the number of spectators will grow steadily until the word comes from either the 3,400 or 3,900 foot levels of the Kennedy that a connection with the Argonaut is a reality.

TO GIVE TALK ON LONDON EXHIBITION

Member of British Trade Delegation Will Explain Objects of 1924 Show in London

Plans for the entertainment of the British Trade delegation which will arrive in Victoria Saturday were drawn up at a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce committee appointed for that purpose at a meeting held yesterday under the chairmanship of Mr. C. T. Cross, included in the party which will come to Victoria are Major E. A. Belcher, C.B.E., M.A., Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Colman, A. Christie, C.M.G., D.S.O., and Mrs. Christie, and Mr. F. W. Bates, secretary. The members of the party have been touring the British Empire to explain plans and secure co-operation for the British Empire Trade Exhibition to be held in London in 1924.

A luncheon, for which tickets can be obtained at the office of the Vancouver Island Publicity Bureau, will be given Tuesday at the Hudson's Bay Store. Saturday afternoon the delegation will be taken for an auto drive and in the evening they will be taken to the Observatory Sunday when they will be entertained at Butchart's gardens.

Monday, under the auspices of the Provincial Government, the party will be given the opportunity of obtaining some industrial information of Vancouver Island. They will be escorted over some of the lumber camps and industrial plants, and on Tuesday a party of business men will make them acquainted with the shipping facilities of Victoria and also show them over the drydock.

During their visit an open meeting is to be held, at which all interested will be invited to hear Major Belcher, as the spokesman of the delegation, explain the project on which they are working.

WILL NEGOTIATE AGAIN ON WAGES

Railway Companies and Shopmen Agree to Minister Mordock's Suggestion That Agreement Be Tried For

MONTREAL, Sept. 12.—Hon. James Mordock, Minister of Labor, was officially notified by the Canadian Railway Association that the companies were willing to open direct negotiations with the railway shopmen on the wage question. The offer came as a result of an appeal by the Minister asking that such negotiations be opened. The telegram sent tonight reads:

"In reply to your night letter of the 10th inst., I have been directed by the railway companies to state their acceptance of the majority report of the board of conciliation in the shopmen's case was without reservation and in accordance with the recommendations contained therein. They are prepared to join in direct negotiations as to definite rates of pay promptly upon advice of the board of conciliation."

Officials of the shopmen have expressed their readiness to open negotiations.

OTTAWA, Sept. 12.—Hon. James Mordock, Minister of Labor, said tonight that he had received the telegram from the Canadian Railway Association and he was optimistic that the direct negotiations would result in the railway companies and the shopmen reaching a complete understanding.

MONTREAL, Sept. 12.—When the board of conciliation considering the wage question of 7,000 men attached to the clerical, freight handling, roundhouse and station forces of the Grand Trunk Railway met this morning, E. P. Needham, on behalf of the railway, made a statement relative to the controversy as to payments regarding the employees' wages that were in effect prior to July 20, when the company introduced cuts from two to five cents an hour.

GETS SUPPORT OF PARLIAMENT

President Cosgrove Is Given Vote of Confidence in House by 54 to 15—Laborites Compose Minority

MOVER OF RESOLUTION IS STRONG FOR PEACE

Head of Government Emphatically Justifies Expulsion of Republican Forces From Four Courts Building

DUBLIN, Sept. 12.—The Irish Parliament today adopted a resolution expressing confidence in the government. The vote was 54 to 15. The minority vote was cast by Laborites.

Replying to critics of the government, William Cosgrove, president of the Dail Eireann, in referring to the decision of the cabinet to attack the republicans in the Four Courts Building, which they seized some time ago and from which they were rejected by the national troops, said:

"If I ever have done a wise thing in my life, I bank on that as the wisest I have ever done. I wish that all the events of my life were as well justified as that was."

The vote of confidence in the Government was given on a resolution moved by William Cosgrove, president of the Dail Eireann, in referring to the decision of the cabinet to attack the republicans in the Four Courts Building, which they seized some time ago and from which they were rejected by the national troops, said:

Daral Figgie, of Dublin, in another amendment to the resolution, declared that in view of the economic situation, the president of the Dail had failed to outline a constructive programme. He deplored the fact that the government had not taken any steps to relieve the unemployment situation which was the result of the military operations. Both amendments were voted down.

JANITOR PUTS END TO NEGOTIATIONS

Drives Shop Crafts Policy Committee Out of Room as Soon as Their Time Is Up

CHICAGO, Sept. 12.—A husky janitor put an end to negotiations seeking a basis for settlement of the railway union strike today when, a mop and broom in hand, he ordered the union leaders out of the hall in which they were meeting. And they left, adjourning until tomorrow morning, without taking any definite action.

It was at the most critical period of the two-day session that the janitor, intent on performing his duty of preparing the hall for another meeting, knocked loudly for admittance on the doors behind which the shop crafts policy committee of 90 was in session.

SMITHFIELD MARKET STRIKE IS SETTLED

LONDON, Sept. 12.—The strike of several hundred men in the cold storage department of the Smithfield market, which began two days ago because of a proposed reduction in wages, was settled today at a conference of the employers and strikers. The men resume work under the old conditions and wages, to continue until June 1, 1923, when, if there has been a further decline in the cost of living, a cut in wages is to be favorably considered.

CANADIAN CLUBS IN CONVENTION

Association Chooses Victoria for Next Meeting Place and Elects Victorian Officers—Many Subjects Discussed

HAMILTON, Ont., Sept. 12.—The following officers were elected to-day's session of the Association of Canadian Clubs: B. C. Nicholas, Victoria, president; Mrs. J. A. Hyndman, Victoria, vice-president; F. J. Behl, honorary secretary-treasurer.

The Provincial vice-president for British Columbia is Right Rev. Bishop de Pencier.

Purification of moving picture films, general acceptance of a standardized version of "O Canada," the formation of young men and young women's Canadian Clubs whenever possible, and endorsement of the Western Canada Colonization Association's project of immigration, were recommended yesterday afternoon at the fourth annual conference of the Association of Canadian Clubs.

Voting on the question of where next year's convention shall be held, a majority favored Victoria, B.C. The discussion on the diversified versions of "O Canada" now extant was lengthy. The association recommended that Dr. Richardson's translation of the Rouhieh composition be accepted in English-speaking Canada.

By a standing vote the association sent a message to King George, assuring him of their loyalty and of the affection in which he is held in Canada. A similar message was sent to the Prince of Wales.

The association opened the second day of its conference this morning with an attendance of about a hundred delegates. Bishop de Pencier, of New Westminster, was the principal speaker this morning. Fredrick S. Holmes, A.R.C.A., gave an address on Canadian art, and Hector Charlesworth, Toronto, spoke on Canadian drama.

The remainder of the morning session was devoted to a discussion of the best methods of commemorating Armistice Day and other anniversaries.

At noon the assembly adjourned to Stoney Creek for luncheon. There Lieut. Col. C. R. McCullough, founder of the Canadian Club, delivered an address on the history of Stoney Creek.

C. R. McCullough, father of the Canadian Club, and Bishop de Pencier, New Westminster, told the association that there should be a distinct celebration of Armistice Day; that it was too important to be merged into another holiday. The matter was referred to the resolutions committee.

Bishop de Pencier spoke on Canadianization. He said that in many towns in Western Canada English was not spoken; the people were ignorant of our customs and knew nothing of our flag. The Oriental problem would be spread to all Canada, and was pressing in British Columbia, where half the population of many towns was Japanese or Chinese. One hotel was owned by Chinese, who hired white men to work for them. He said that it was necessary for Canada's welfare not to allow any Oriental into the country than we could Canadianize.

Unless we are willing that our sons and daughters should marry Chinese and Japanese, we have no right to admit Oriental immigration. Our motto for immigration should be that they must be white; that they must be Christian and British.

Travelers arriving here recently talked with Captain Amundsen at Wainwright. A teacher in the United Bureau of Education, named Ward, was told by Amundsen that his plane was final to spend the winter there. Amundsen then began setting up portable dwellings brought from the United States. Unless some vessel now in the Arctic could bring word, it is not expected communication can be had with Captain Amundsen until next summer.

Rates Are Much Higher Than in Tariff of 1913

Bearing of Fordney Emergency Measure on Canada's Trade Is Shown—Washington's Outline of Changes Made in Conference—Retailatory Provisions Aimed at Canada

OTTAWA, Sept. 12.—The immediate effect of the proposed United States tariff on Canadian exports to the republic will not be apparent until several weeks after the bills have been signed by President Harding, according to opinions expressed here today by tariff experts. The proposed rates presented today to the United States house differ considerably from the rates established by the Fordney tariff and radically from the United States tariff as it stood in 1913. The new tariff proposes a rate of 30 cents a bushel on wheat, as compared with the rates of 35 cents under the existing Fordney tariff and reciprocal free wheat under the tariff of 1913.

On cattle the existing tariff sets up a duty of 30 per cent ad valorem, while under the proposed schedule the rate will be from 1 and 1/2 to 2 cents a pound. Cattle were free of duty under the U. S. tariff of 1913. Under the proposed tariff sheep are levied on at the rate of $2 a head, while the existing tariff discriminates between sheep under one year and sheep over that age, charging $1 a head in the first instance and $2 in the second. Sheep were also free under the 1913 tariff.

BELGIUM MAKES FORMAL DEMAND

Requires Germany to Deposit 100,000,000 Gold Marks in Brussels—France Said to Have Suggested Move

PARIS, Sept. 12.—Formal demand was made on Germany tonight by the Belgian government for the deposit of 100,000,000 gold marks in the National Bank of Brussels, but the demand is so worded as to permit of further negotiations. Although September 18 is the date fixed for the delivery of the gold, it is highly improbable that a definite decision in the new reparations tangle will be reached before next week.

In the meantime the members of the commission are working for the inevitable compromise. France is firmly behind the Brussels government in demanding strict enforcement of the terms of the recent reparations decision, and strong representations from the French premier are believed to have been largely responsible for the withdrawal of the Belgian delegates from Berlin and for tonight's request for gold.

POLICEWOMAN WARK FLATLY CONTRADICTED

Chief Fry Declares Her Statement Before Local Council of Women on Savoy Hotel Case False

Flat contradiction of what the members of the Local Council of Women in a resolution they passed at their Monday meeting, described as the "actual facts" was given by Chief of Police Fry yesterday when, in referring to statements made at that meeting by Miss Wark, policewoman, that in the recent Savoy Hotel case she had undertaken the investigation "as a police officer working under the instruction and with the knowledge and assistance of the chief," he emphatically intimated that if Miss Wark made the statement credited to her in the report of the meeting she made a statement which was false.

Chief Fry was asked if he had anything to say relative to Miss Wark's reported remarks. He was reluctant to do so, pointing out that the statements so made were quite untrue, the matter assumed a serious aspect so far as the proper discipline and administration of the department were concerned.

"The fact is," stated Chief Fry, "I knew absolutely nothing of the fact that stool pigeons had been engaged to secure evidence in the Savoy Hotel case until the warrants were issued, warrants based upon evidence secured by the two women who, whom Miss Wark had collaborated."

Beyond that statement Chief Fry refused to say anything further, saying that stool pigeons had been engaged to secure evidence in the Savoy Hotel case until the warrants were issued, warrants based upon evidence secured by the two women who, whom Miss Wark had collaborated."

ARRANGE FORM OF U. S. TARIFF

Measure as Completed in Conference Is Presented to House—Rates of Duty on Produce and Textiles

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—The administration tariff bill, as finally presented today in the House. The conference report on it, bearing the signatures of the Republican managers, will be called up tomorrow, with the expectation that it will be disposed of not later than Thursday. The measure then will go to the Senate, but because of opposition to the dye embargo and other provisions, action there may be delayed a week or more.

As now framed, the bill is estimated roughly by the experts to raise approximately $400,000,000 in revenue on the basis of the present volume of the nation's import trade. The level of its rates, according to the experts, is slightly below the level in the Payne-Aldrich Bill, the last Republican protective tariff, but is considerably above the level of the Democratic Underwood law, now in force.

The bill will become effective immediately after President Harding signs it, replacing the Underwood and emergency tariff acts. It is designed, to a large extent, its framers have said, to meet the unusual world economic situation, and more particularly to protect American industries from the low-cost industries in Germany and the countries carved out of Austria-Hungary.

The more important rates in the bill as finally agreed upon in conference are:

Agricultural products: Cattle, from 1 1/2 to 2 cents a pound.
Sheep and goats, 2 to 4 cents a head.
Fresh lamb, 4 cents a pound.
Hog, 1 cent a pound.
Fresh pork, 8 cents a pound.

Poultry, dead, 6 cents a pound.
Eggs of poultry in the shell, 5 cents a dozen.

MR. BOWSER FORSAKES LAW FOR POLITICS

VANCOUVER, Sept. 12.—W. J. Bowser has decided to desert the law for politics—exclusively. Following the decision of the recent Conservative convention installing him as leader of the party in this Province, Mr. Bowser announced today that he had sold to his former partner his interest in the firm of Bowser, Reid & Wallbridge. That firm will hereafter be known as Reid, Wallbridge, Douglas & Gibson.

Thirty-one years ago the present leader of the opposition first hung out his shingle in Vancouver. He was for some years a partner of the late J. J. Godfrey, a brother of William Godfrey, of the Bank of Montreal. Few lawyers who were engaged in practice in this city in 1891 are here today.

GIVES NEW LIFE TO LEAGUE WORK

Premier Lloyd George's Coming Visit to Assembly Is Warmly Welcomed—Other Countries Send Salutes

GENEVA, Sept. 12.—When Prime Minister Lloyd George, of Great Britain, arrives here next week, he will find all the necessary elements for a Supreme Council meeting. France will be represented either by Rene Viviani or Fernand Poincare, while the Italian Government will send Foreign Minister Schanzer, Paul Hymans, of Belgium, who has been here since the opening of the League of Nations sessions, has been a frequent participant in Supreme Council sessions, while the Japanese ambassador, Hayashi and Ishii, are both here to represent their nation.

The news that the British Premier was coming has injected new life into the lagging interest in the league assembly sessions. Great pressure has been brought on the British Premier to induce him to come, the strongest argument being that the policy of the Allies was held largely responsible for the growing difficulties and the increasing unrest of Europe, and that grave danger to the general peace was threatened if the distresses of the early winter came on before anything had been done to help Central Europe out of her present prostration.

"It will take 15 years to get Central Europe organized again on any basis," said one of the leading Central European statesmen today outside the league sessions, "and if a beginning is not made right now, what may be a handiwork of misfortune, Austria cannot go through another winter of near starvation without upheavals that will spread."

ALKALINE WATER AFFECTS CEMENT

Committee of Scientific Men Now Proceeding With Experiments to Determine Results

OTTAWA, Sept. 12.—Millions of dollars worth of concrete construction are involved in an important series of scientific experiments now under way. Examination has shown that cement structures, subject to the action of alkaline water, particularly in the Western Provinces, are slowly disintegrating. A committee of scientific experts under the chairmanship of Professor C. J. Mackenzie, of the University of Saskatchewan, was appointed to investigate, and a fund was created to finance the work. The Research Council of Canada gave $5,000, while grants from the provinces of Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Canada Cement Company, the C. P. R., and the city of Winnipeg, brought the fund to $13,200.

It was decided to divide the work into two phases: physical field tests and chemical research. Two hundred and fifty blocks of cement were exposed to the action of alkaline water at different points, this stage of the experiments being conducted under Professor Williams, of the University of Saskatchewan. The work, according to word received here, is now about to enter on the second stage, that of chemical research, which will be carried on under Professor Thorndson, assisted by five chemists. It is not expected, however, that any results will be ready for publication for another year.

DEAL WITH REMOVAL OF CATTLE EMBARGO

LONDON, Sept. 12.—A conference of representatives of the British and Canadian Governments to deal with legislation made necessary to carry out the resolution of the British House of Commons on the lifting of the embargo against Canadian cattle will be held in London in the near future. It was announced today.

The announcement was made by the Colonial Office, which says it is hoped that as a result of the conference it will be possible to reach a basis of agreement which could be embodied in a bill to be introduced in Parliament in the Autumn session.

First Produced in Ontario

OTTAWA, Sept. 12.—Five thousand tons of first-class peat fuel will be produced this season at the Government's experimental peat plant at Alfred, Ont. It is estimated by Hon. Charles Stewart, Minister of Interior, who has returned from a personal inspection of the plant,

RAIN HAMBERS HARVEST WORK

Threshing in Prairie Provinces Is Slightly Delayed, With Weather Improving—Grain of Good Quality

WINNIPEG, Sept. 12.—With the exception of one or two localities, reports show that threshing outfits in Manitoba and Saskatchewan were practically idle all of last week, according to the weekly crop report of the agricultural department of the Canadian Pacific Railway issued today.

In Manitoba the weather is generally cool, with light winds, exactly the condition needed for drying the stacks with no risk of grain sprouting. Cutting of all grains in this Province is completed except a few northerly districts. Threshing is 30 to 40 per cent finished. Some Fall rye has been sown, but owing to delay in the threshing completion of seeding of this crop will be later than usual. Pastures and cultivated grasses are freshening up, insuring good grazing until heavy frost comes.

The quality and yield of grain so far threshed in Saskatchewan is uniformly good. Cutting of wheat is about finished, and other grain from 85 to 95 per cent. Threshing is from 10 to 20 per cent finished. Recent rains will cause a reserve supply of moisture for next year and put the ground in good shape for Fall ploughing.

Local showers in many parts of Alberta caused temporary delay in harvesting, but on the whole fair progress has been made in both cutting and threshing. It is expected the balance of the grain will be in stock before the end of this week unless rain interferes. Yields are up to expectations in the majority of districts, and with few exceptions grain is grading well.

On the E. D. & B. C. Railway threshing has been delayed on account of rain. Spirit River district reports were averaging 15 bushels grading No. 2, with a small percentage of No. 1.

Fruit and vegetable crops in British Columbia are looking well, and the present outlook is for a slightly larger apple crop than last year. Brown rot is prevalent in some orchards, confined to a few varieties of apples. Wealthies probably suffering most. Apple picking is general.

SEARCHERS SECURE BODY OF AVIATOR

Major MacLaurin Found Near Where His Airplane Fell—John R. Duncan Dies of Injuries

VANCOUVER, Sept. 12.—The body of Major C. MacLaurin, of the Canadian air station here, pilot of the seaplane which crashed yesterday on a sandbar in the Gulf of Georgia, was found this morning in 9 o'clock near where the plane was wrecked. Search parties looking for the body of Major MacLaurin found the dead aviator on a sandbar, not far from the scene of Monday's fatal airplane crash. It was low tide and the popular flyer was lying amid bits of the plane. His mouth and eyes were out and one leg badly bruised, and the supposition is that he was knocked unconscious when the machine nose dived and then drowned. Inspector Owen, of the Provincial police, was in command of the searchers, and the body has been taken to the morgue. An inquest will be held.

A handsome five-foot-tall boy of four years, Cedric, has been left an orphan by the tragic death of his father, Major MacLaurin. The boy's mother, an English bride, passed away during the epidemic influenza shortly after the return of the couple to Ottawa in 1918.

It was while stationed in Hemlock, in the Isle of Wight, that the romance occurred which culminated in the union of Miss Goodall, an attractive English girl, and the big Canadian aviator.

After a courtship extending over several months they were married in 1917, and in the following year, when the armistice was signed, they came to British Columbia, where Major MacLaurin was attached to the naval service. Little Cedric was then an infant in arms, and in a few months was bereft of his mother. Since that time he has been his father's constant companion.

During the war Major MacLaurin was advanced rapidly until he was given command of the important air station at Felixstowe, Eng. There followed a gallant and daring service for Britain that only the archives of the service can reveal. His friends stated casually that he took part in several expeditions to the enemy coast, and saw considerable service with His Majesty's fleet in the North Sea.

Since he was appointed to command of the Jericho air station, according to Mr. Morgan Dean, secretary of the air board, Jericho planes have flown 150,000 miles without an accident until yesterday.

At 2 o'clock this morning John R. Duncan, the passenger, in the seaplane which was wrecked, died of his injuries. Investigation reveals nothing whatever wrong with the machinery and controls of the seaplane which took a nose dive into English Bay yesterday, causing the death of Major MacLaurin, superintendent of the Government airforce here, and John R. Duncan, a prominent business man. Experts who have examined the machine are at a loss to

MONTREAL, Sept. 12.—The grand jury of the Court of King's Bench this afternoon received an application from the crown for a true bill against Sir Montagu Allan, president of the Merchants Bank of Canada, on a charge of having negligently made false returns to the Government of the bank's condition in October, 1921.

After hearing George Edwards, of Toronto, expert accountant, and J. N. Kilbourne, former secretary of the bank, the jury decided that no more witnesses were necessary.

The decision of the jury will be announced tomorrow.

DISSATISFIED WITH MAGISTRATE'S RULING

Attorney-General Manson Expresses His Opinion of Outcome of Recent Police Court Actions

Criticism of the decision rendered by Magistrate Jay in the recent liquor cases in the police court, wherein proceedings launched by the Liquor Board on evidence procured by Government stool pigeons, proved unsuccessful, the magistrate dismissing charges against the accused, was voiced in a statement which Attorney-General Manson handed out to the press yesterday when announcing the fact that the magistrate's decision would be appealed.

The Attorney-General also has a kind word to say of the two Government witnesses, whom he designates under the euphonious title of "enforcement officers."

"Appeals have been entered from the decision of Magistrate Jay in all the recent liquor cases and the accused will now have to face a retrial before the judge of the County Court," stated Hon. Mr. Manson.

"This department," said Mr. Manson, "is not satisfied with Magistrate Jay's decision and it certainly disapproves of witnesses being submitted to the abuse in the witness box that they were submitted to in Magistrate Jay's court. There is a distinct difference between severity of cross-examination and abusive cross-examination. This department chooses its enforcement officers with all the care it possibly can. They are in the regular pay of the board, and the department intends to see that they are properly treated. Theirs is a difficult task and they are entitled to the protection of the court just the same as any other witnesses."

FINANCES MAKE BETTER SHOWING

Department's Report, Indicating Small Decrease in Net Debt and Larger Revenue, Gives Some Encouragement

OTTAWA, Sept. 12.—The financial tide is turning. Growth in the national debt, which attained abnormal proportions in war years and in the period immediately following the war, has been checked. The confident hope is expressed in official circles that not only will the present annual year see no increase in debt, but that there will be some decrease. Figures issued by the Finance Department last night showed a decrease in net debt for the month of August of nearly five millions. Against this, however, must be set expenditures incurred and not passed through the books of the Finance Department. Taking, however, the whole period of the present financial year since March 31 last, there has been a reduction in the net debt.

In his budget speech, Hon. W. S. Fielding, Minister of Finance, estimated the net debt on March 31 last at $2,427,266,789. The accounts for the year are now being reviewed by a firm of chartered accountants and they are expected to report soon and will show that on March 31 the net debt was approximately $2,377,000,000. This contrasts with $2,377,000,000, the total of the net debt as at now stands, subject to incurred expenditures which have been passed through the books. Estimating this at twenty millions, the ordinary expenditure in round figures for a month, the reduction in net debt this year has so far been about fifteen millions. But heavy interest payments, totalling around fifty millions, fall due in November, and they will have to be accounted for.

Increased revenues consequent on the higher taxation introduced in the last budget and improved business conditions, coupled with decreased expenditures, are regarded as being responsible for the improved situation. Advances to railways, which absorbed about a hundred millions last year, and rather more than a hundred millions the year before, have been cut. Other revenue, which has declined with the fall in prices and lessened business activities, is now recovering, and for the first five months of the present fiscal year shows increase of five millions over the corresponding five months of last year.

Inland revenue, which comprises much of the new taxation, is six millions higher for the same periods. Income and business profits taxes show declines, but the total ordinary revenue for this year is $1,700,000,000, while the ordinary expenditure is over seven millions less, and capital expenditure is down three millions.

In 1914, before the war, Canada's net debt stood at a shade under $135,000,000. The largest increase of any one year was in 1919-1920. In 1920-21, the increase was $32,000,000. Last year it was approximately $32,000,000, this latter figure still being subject to audit.

CLUB IS GIVEN OPTIMIST TALK

Mr. H. J. Wischniuk, Business Analyst, Addresses Kiwanians at Weekly Luncheon

A message of optimism marked by epigrams, anecdotes and humor, was delivered by Mr. Howard J. Wischniuk, business analyst, before the Kiwanis Club at its weekly luncheon in the Dominion Hotel yesterday.

Mr. Wischniuk's address did not confine itself to one topic, but touched here and there, the arguments being driven home with illustrative stories that brought roars of laughter from the members.

In opening, the speaker declared that he was not a "nut optimist" who claims that everything is all right and that the world is a perfect place. He referred to the "nut pessimist" whose answer to every expression of optimism on the part of another was prefaced with the words, "Yes, but—"

The man he liked to see was the "realist," said Mr. Wischniuk. He had met one down in the States not long ago, an elderly man, and not much to look upon. When the speaker asked him how he found business, he had got the answer, "The little bit I'm getting is pretty damn good."

This man was not a nut optimist or a nut pessimist, but was simply doing the best he could and appreciating what he had.

The Mental Attitude

Mr. Wischniuk told the story of the woman who went into a shoe store, and, like many women, wanted shoes that were too small for her. The salesman got a shoe on the right foot, but was unable to fit its mate, and so remarked, "Your left foot is larger than your right, madame."

The customer, indignant, left the store and went down the street to another shoe store. The performance of shoe fitting was repeated, with the same difficulty presenting itself, but the clerk, when he found himself unable to get the shoe on the customer's left foot, said, "Madame, do you realize that one of your feet is smaller than the other?" The woman bought at that store.

Business Casualties

Through luncheon clubs men were learning co-operation, said Mr. Wischniuk. "If you don't hang together," he said, "you will be scattered."

Reports on Sinking of German Vessel Off Vigo Vary Greatly—Captain Tells His Story of Disaster

GIBRALTAR, Sept. 12.—Thirty women and children drowned, when two small boats capsized, are believed here to represent the total loss of life among the passengers of the Hammonia, which sank Saturday off Vigo, Spain.

CORUNNA, Spain, Sept. 12.—When the ill-fated steamship Hammonia left here for Vigo on Friday there were on board 154 persons, of whom 163 were passengers. The Hammonia is reported to have grazed a rock while leaving the harbor. Some survivors who have reached here declare 63 lives were lost, while others believe that all the crew and passengers were saved.

SOUTHAMPTON, England, Sept. 12.—The loss of life in the foundering of the German steamship Hammonia off Vigo, Spain, last Saturday, probably never will be definitely known. The passenger list was not saved, and the total number of those on board can only be approximated.

The captain, Alfred Hofer, commander of the Hammonia, asserts that only 15 persons are missing out of a total of 157. The crew, he believes, numbered 192, and the passengers 163.

Captain Day, commanding the steamship Kinfauns Castle, which brought the 383 survivors here, says he saw possibly eighty drowning, while others place the death toll as high as 150. One reason why the number of lost will probably never be known is that most of the passengers were Spanish or Cuban workmen, whom it would be impossible to trace.

During his fifty years at sea, in which he has saved four ships and their crews, Captain Day told the Associated Press he never witnessed scenes of horror equal to those of Saturday.

"When we received the S.O.S. on Saturday morning," he said, "we hurried to the scene and stood by for several hours until told that we were not needed. Then when resetting our course late in the afternoon we got a second call and hurried back in a heavy sea. We saw the Hammonia on her side, sinking, with the ocean full of life rafts and overturned boats, to which drowning men, women and children were clinging. We got out eight boats, and there was a great rush among the sailors to be the first to the rescue."

"They brought on board 385 persons. One of our boats delivered seven to the City of Valencia; another 38 were rescued by the Euclid, and possibly 60 by the Tudor Prince. If there were any more they were lost."

Captain Hofer, who formerly commanded the liner Imperator, said he had been going to sea for 18 years, in which time he had never suffered an accident. Then with lips quivering: "I lost my ship and cannot even say why. It will remain one of the mysteries of the sea."

"When we left Vigo," he continued, "strong cross-winds began to blow and we slowed down. Then I found the ship leaning and put her head to the storm, but the water kept creeping upward. I sounded vainly to ascertain the whereabouts of the

The Joy

Of watching film-coats disappear from teeth

If you don't know these facts as yet, send for this free test.

All the world over careful people are brushing teeth in a new way. Millions of them in America alone. You see the results in prettier teeth wherever you look today. Now let your own teeth show them.

Combat the film

Your teeth are coated with a viscous film. You can feel it now. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays. No ordinary tooth paste can effectively combat it.

Film absorbs stains, making the teeth look dingy. It then forms cloudy coats. Tartar is based on film. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Germs breed by millions in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. All of these troubles were constantly increasing under old brushing methods.

Then this came

Dental science then began a search for film combatants. Eventually two were found. One acts to erode film, one to remove it, and without any harmful scouring.

Able authorities proved these methods effective. Then dentists everywhere began to advise their patients.

A new-type tooth paste was created, based

Two other effects

Pepsodent brings two other effects which research proves essential. It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva. That is there to constantly neutralize the acids which cause decay.

It multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva. That is there to digest starch deposits on teeth which may otherwise ferment and form acids. Thus Pepsodent, twice daily, gives manifold power to Nature's great tooth-protecting agents in the mouth.

What it means to a child

Pepsodent brings a new era in teeth cleaning. It means that children need not suffer what you may have suffered from your teeth. It means that boys and girls, as they grow up, need not have dingy teeth.

Do this

Send the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear.

know that too much significance should be attached to it or a great deal of alarm created by it. Limits have been set to domain of the Moslem, and while the power to enforce the decree of limitations may not be physically obtrusive for the moment, it is in existence and can be exercised when necessary.

It is a pity that the programme of the League of Nations has been somewhat ruptured by events in a neck of Asia. We do not know positively who is primarily responsible, but we cannot dismiss from our minds a belief that there is some connection between it and the recall of Constantine to the Hellenic throne and the exile of former Premier Venizelos. The King had a reputation as a man of war, and war followed his return to power. The belief that Greece was eager to extend her possessions and that visions of establishment in the great business and political centre on the Golden Horn had entered into her head was commonly entertained. That fantastic dream has been dissipated, and the cause of it may be driven forth again in disgrace, but the Allies have been left with an unsettled problem on their hands. The position of the Turk must be stated anew, possibly. Constantinople in the unrestricted possession of the Moslem was for centuries the centre and cause of strife in Europe. That condition can never be restored.

The weather, like many other things which have been behaving in an erratic manner of late years, is getting back to normal again. The conditions of the last few days are not unusual at all; they are just what we have been accustomed to in this highly-favored part of the world. If there are any doubts upon the subject, consult the oldest inhabitant or some one who can speak with authority. Never mind the weather man—he will simply cast a column or two of confusing statistics in your face.

Surely there has been enough turmoil and strife throughout the world within the past few years to convince Canadians of the futility of strikes as a means for the settlement of disputes of any kind. Speedy marketing of the great crop that is being reaped just now is the one thing necessary to insure prosperity throughout the land, and that cannot be accomplished if the railways and their employees are going to enter upon a fight for mastery.

Life in the air is not by any means as safe as life on the ocean wave. The death of Major McLaurin, superintendent of the Dominion Air Service at Jericho Beach, is deeply to be deplored. The Major was a competent master of aircraft and his courses always were consonant with safety. He was the victim of an unavoidable accident and died in the discharge of his duty.

There is at least one governing authority in Canada which is travelling in a safe financial direction. The net debt of the Dominion is being substantially reduced. The country is fairly prosperous already, and it is undoubtedly on the threshold of still greater prosperity. The thing is inevitable with such splendid crops being gathered in all the provinces.

MEMORIAL FUND IS GROWING SLOWLY

Canadian Nurses Give Report of Progress Made, Showing $19,951.75 of Objective Raised

With an objective of $65,000 for its memorial fund, the Canadian Association of Graduate Nurses is making gradual progress, according to the August number of The Canadian Nurse. The fund was opened last January, and it was the intention to raise the money within the year. On the basis of the number of members in the Provincial association the objective of each province was set. This method, The Canadian Nurse notes, was not without its faults, as in some provinces the Provincial Nurses' Association does not represent all the nurses in that province. And although it has been thought by some members of the committee, since the fund is organized that the memorial could be erected for a smaller sum, it has been found impossible to state the exact cost until the location for the memorial has been decided and the design approved. So that the original objective of $65,000 still stands.

British Columbia's share of the amount is $13,000, and of this the fund has been sent to the treasurer to date $2,415. This is a rather interesting point to learn, in a better proportion of the total allocation than has been raised to date by any of the other provinces in the Dominion, with the exception of Quebec, which already has in hand more than $5,000 of its $10,000 allocation. This is an interesting point. Is Quebec going to reach her assigned objective before any of the other provinces in Canada? The amount collected throughout the Dominion to date is over $10,000, which is very little more than one-sixth of the total objective.

"The memorial is to be an expression of our pride and respect for those sisters who spared nothing in their patriotism and devotion to duty," says The Canadian Nurse, in pointing out the purpose of the fund. "Many women who see the need of such things suggested that more useful and more worthy objects be chosen for a memorial. For us, however, a national, permanent memorial has a greater appeal, and such a one is deeper than any other, placed at the capital. Anything else, anywhere else, would be a local remembrance, entailing expense in the up-keep, a burden we would not be justified in leaving to those coming after us. It behooves us to show our appreciation of what our training has done for us. Let us grasp the privilege of giving and erect a monument worthy, both of those to whom we erect it and of those giving it, the nurses of Canada."

Tax Sales

Sir—I see that the City Council is being urged to make a big push in disposing of its reverted lots. In my humble opinion that is the worst policy.

For the city to sell lots at the price of the taxes would have the effect of bringing down the price of all other lots in the vicinity of those sold to the level at which the city sells its lots. In other words the owners' equity in these adjoining lots would be nil. Then why should he continue to pay taxes on them, if they are worth nothing above the taxes? If then the city wants to put all unimproved lots on the toboggan slide it has only to push vigorously the sale of its own lots at the price of the taxes, or thereabouts.

CHARGE AGAINST L. BAYNE HEARD

Magistrate Jay Reserves Judgment in Liquor Selling Case—Accused Denies Making Any Sale

After listening to the evidence submitted by the prosecution and defence, and the respective pleas of counsel, in the case of Lester Bayne, who was charged with "unlawfully selling intoxicating liquor on June 24, 1922, at the Victoria Bar, Government Street," Magistrate Jay yesterday morning in the city police court reserved judgment on the charge. He wished to go over the evidence, and would announce his decision tomorrow morning.

Following the statement of Mr. Lowe, Crown counsel, that the Liquor Board was prepared to proceed with the case against alleged violators of the Government Control Act, while the case against Major George W. Nicholson, M.C., of Sooke, who was acquitted in the Provincial police court last week on charges of "unlawfully selling intoxicating liquor," would be appealed, the case against Lester Bayne was called.

The accused was defended by Mr. Ernest Miller, while Mr. R. C. Lowe, conducted the case for the prosecution. Two officials of the Liquor Board, who have not yet appeared in these series of liquor cases, Mr. Bell and Peter Ferris, gave evidence for the prosecution, and the Crown rested its case on the uncorroborated testimony of these two stool pigeons.

Claims He Bought Liquor
Walter Tennyson Bell took the stand and swore that he was a police constable employed by the Government Liquor Board at a monthly salary of $150. He said that he had heard that Lester Bayne, the accused, had been running a bar and lunch counter underneath the old Victoria Hotel, on Government Street, and had dropped in there on the evening of June 24 last, about 8 o'clock.

Witness alleged that Ferris, his brother constable and himself, had purchased whisky from the accused Bayne, who, he said, had poured the liquor into small glasses from a milk pitcher, which was underneath the counter. There was no one else in the room, said Bell, except a longshoreman, who went out of the premises as he and Ferris entered.

"How do you know that it was whisky which you may have received from Bayne?" asked Mr. Miller.
"Because I was intoxicated," replied Bell.

"Is all intoxicating liquor necessarily whisky?"
"Course not," said witness, who claimed that he knew that the liquor was whisky by its taste.

"What was your occupation before you entered this conspiracy?" was another of Mr. Miller's questions.
"I don't get you."

"Well, you will later on, then," was counsel's statement.
Bell informed the court that Inspector Miller, of the Liquor Board, had employed him in Vancouver.
"Do you know that this Miller is a foreigner?" witness was asked.
"He speaks as good language as you do. As far as I know he is not a foreigner," said Bell.

Witness stated that he received his instructions from Inspector Miller on Beatty Street, Vancouver. He said that he had no instructions in this particular case against Bayne, although he admitted that he was sent out to get evidence legitimately. As far as he knew, Ferris had never been instructed as to how to get evidence against alleged offenders of the liquor law.

"You never lied to anyone for the purpose of securing convictions against such persons?" queried Mr. Miller.
"No, never," Bell emphatically retorted.

Not An Insurance Agent
"Acting under instructions from the Liquor Board, were you also an insurance agent?"
"I was not," witness declared.

"You tell this court that you didn't go to Bayne's place to get evidence?" Mr. Miller asked.
"I was not given particular instructions to visit premises. I was in the employ of the Liquor Board, and was in Victoria on June 24, but was in the city on another matter entirely. I just happened to drop into the Victoria Bar, Bell said.

"If I can't get a man properly, I don't want to catch him at all. I always do my business up and above board," witness declared.

Walter Bell told of having gone back to Vancouver following the alleged offence, and making his report to Inspector Miller. He then said he had information against the accused in Vancouver before Mr. Andrew Blyth, in the office of a Mr. Anderson, attorney-at-law.

"Isn't the Liquor Board?" witness was asked.
"I couldn't say. I know he is a Justice of the Peace," was the reply.

Witness stated that he had sworn in the information that John Doe, proprietor of the Victoria Bar, had sold him liquor. This was signed by witness on August 4, although the offence alleged took place on June 24.

"Isn't it reasonable for the information to be laid shortly after the offence?" asked Mr. Miller of witness.
"Yes," was the answer.

Reason for the Delay
On being questioned as to the reason of the delay, Bell said that the police constables were busy in various cases in different parts of the Province and "didn't want to be known."

"You wanted to fool someone else, then?"
"It was not a question of fooling," said the witness.

Magistrate Jay intervened to remark that witness had sworn on August 4 that he had been sold liquor on June 24 by John Doe, proprietor of the Victoria Bar.

the proprietor of the said premises was a fictitious one.
Bell answered, "I believe so."
Counsel Makes Charge
Mr. Miller charged that blank warrants were carried around the country, and when the stool pigeons were suspicious of any wrongdoing, the warrants were filled out by them and arrests made.

Peter Ferris, another stool pigeon, said that he lived in Vancouver and had been a constable for a year, being paid by the month.
Witness told of going with Walter Bell on June 24th to the Victoria Bar. The latter had purchased, he said, a drink of whisky, for which he had tendered a one dollar bill to Bayne, receiving fifty cents in change. "We had some ginger ale and a 'chaser,' and then I bought a drink. We each had three drinks, each of us being given a free drink by Bayne as we left his place," witness alleged.

Before entering the Victoria Bar, witness admitted that he had walked up and down in front of the place, sitting it up.

"You went in there, then, with the intention of inducing Bayne to sell you a drink, and in consequence of which, he would be prosecuted?" queried the defence lawyer.

A "Special Officer"
"Quite right," retorted Ferris, who admitted that he had no particular instructions, but was sort of a "special officer."

"Surely you and Bell, being detectives—I am dignifying you by not calling you 'stool pigeons'—have talked over your plans for obtaining evidence," asked Mr. Miller, the witness answering in the affirmative.

Witness alleged that the accused on the evening of June 24 had said to them when they went into his premises, "Two men are over from the Liquor Board men are over from Vancouver, and I must be careful."

Ferris said that "we told him that we had been employed there for five years," and that he was a "special officer."

Magistrate Jay asked witness whether there was any whisky left in the milk jug after the drinks had been, as stated, given to Ferris and Bell.

"I couldn't swear to that," said Ferris.
"Why didn't you seize the jug? It would have been good evidence in this case," said the court.

"We don't do it that way," witness replied.
"Didn't you, as officers, have the authority to take the jug away with you?"

"Yes, we had."
"By leaving the liquor there, other people might have been supplied by the accused. That is no way for police constables to prevent offences from taking place," Magistrate Jay thought.

Asks for Dismissal
Mr. Miller, counsel for Bayne, asked for a dismissal of the charge on the grounds that the witnesses for the prosecution had disagreed on a number of matters. The court ruled that there was a case for a defence to meet, and the trial proceeded.

Earl Gordon Hannah, an operator of the Victoria Fire Department, who had been employed there for five years, took the stand, and said he had been discharged from the hospital on June 23 suffering from a bad leg. On Saturday, June 24, witness said he was in the Victoria Bar from 1 o'clock until about 7:15 p.m. He had taken lunch there, and had remained until about 7:15 p.m. He had told him that he was going to a cabaret that night, and she, Mr. Bayne and himself had left the bar together, the accused, he said, locking the door of the premises with a padlock. He had left the Baynes at the Westholme Hotel, and then went up and met his wife at the St. James Hotel.

Witness said that he had had a non-intoxicating wine to drink while in the Victoria Bar. He swore that he had never seen any liquor sold there, although he had many times seen people buy soft drinks from the accused. He said that during the Summer months the premises were closed between 7 and 8 o'clock at night, and not opened until the following morning. Witness said that he had never seen either Bell or Ferris in the accused's premises.

Mrs. Bayne on Stand
Mrs. Cleopatra Bayne, wife of the accused, took the stand. The Victoria Bar was closed about 7 o'clock at night on the 24th of June. She told of Hannah being in the bar during the afternoon and leaving Bayne and himself in the hotel Westholme following the closing of their premises. She had taken a bath in the Westholme Hotel, where they live, and had gone to bed. She said that she had been with her husband to spend the evening. Mrs. Bayne said her husband had not gone back to the bar that night, but had been with her in the hotel and cabaret the whole time.

That there had never been any liquor sold in the bar was the statement made by Mrs. Bayne, who said that she had never seen a search of their premises had been made by Chief Fry, Sergeant Boulton and Inspector Healey.

There was a transaction as related by Bell and Ferris never transpired," declared Lester Bayne, the accused, in taking the stand in his own defence, who said that he had not sold liquor to anyone since the search of their premises had been made by Chief Fry, Sergeant Boulton and Inspector Healey.

The accused said he had padlocked the door of the Victoria Bar about 7 p.m. on June 24 and went over to the Westholme, where he dressed and while waiting for his wife, who was taking a bath, read the newspaper. He never returned to the bar that night, he said, and spent the evening in the cabaret and in the kitchen of the hotel.

Says Story Was concocted
"They have made the story up," charged the accused, in referring to the evidence submitted by the two stool pigeons. "They never came to me together, nor separately, into the bar."

Witness said he had never seen Ferris until several weeks ago, but he claimed he had met Bell before the occasion, he thought, being on a Sunday following the alleged offence. The accused was not certain of the date of the meeting. Bayne said he never kept his premises open on Sundays. Bell had approached him, he said, when he was about to start with his wife for Colwood, and asked, "What's the chances of getting a mickie?"

Witness stated that he informed the accused that he didn't have any mickies at all.

"Don't you remember me? Why, Bill, you used to call me by my first name a year ago," Bell said to him, witness alleged.

Being cross-examined by Mr. Lowe, accused said that since the days of near-beer he had run the Victoria Bar as a lunch counter and had been barely making a living by it. He had had several liquor permits, but none now. The last permit he obtained was a couple of weeks ago. Accused said that he sold soft drinks at 10 cents a glass and 15 cents a bottle, there being a profit from about 10 cents to 12 cents per bottle.

Walter Bell denied being in the city on the occasion referred to by Bayne when he alleged they met in front of the hotel and the liquor board official asked for some liquor.

Counsel for Defence
Mr. Miller, the defence counsel, in addressing the court, said that the circumstances were most peculiar and required considerable explanation on the part of the Crown. He pointed out that it was two months after the date of the alleged offence before the arrest was made. In addition to this, said Mr. Miller, a "John Doe" warrant is brought over here. If expedition had been used in this case, it might be able to remember the facts much better.

"There is a distinction to be drawn by the court in the case where detectives use subterfuge to detect a crime and the case where spies induce a man to commit a crime in the hope that they can be able to prosecute them," continued Mr. Miller, who contended that there is nothing in the statutes which authorizes or protects a man who induces others to commit a crime, no matter if he is a police officer.

Mr. Miller quoted an extract from a judgment of Mr. Justice Maule in which he says: "A spy may be an honest man if he does not exceed the mission entrusted to him and attempt a conspiracy. Where a spy has acted a criminal part his evidence should be viewed with suspicion."

Defence counsel thought that if the Government authorized this they would be accessories before the fact to the crime.

"Truer words were never spoken than those uttered by Lord Shaw on his recent visit here, when he said, 'The whole system stands self-condemned.'" Mr. Miller went on, mentioning other points in the evidence which he considered were very much in the defendant's favor.

Crown Urges Conviction
Mr. R. C. Lowe said that the witnesses for the prosecution had made no false statements, nor had any inducement been made by them for the commission of any crime. What Lord Shaw has to say has nothing whatever to do with the Bayne case. Mr. Lowe contended. A defective warrant, he said, doesn't even exclude evidence. The issue is clear, whether or not the accused Bayne sold beer. Bell and Ferris, in the course of their ordinary duties, went in to Bayne's premises, made reports of the results of their visit there, and the case was sent to other parts of the Province. That seems to be the system, said counsel for the prosecution. The alibi which the defence had raised would not stand, Mr. Lowe declared.

Witness declared that he was a member of the Victoria Police Force, and that he was in the Victoria Bar from 1 o'clock until about 7:15 p.m. He had taken lunch there, and had remained until about 7:15 p.m. He had told him that he was going to a cabaret that night, and she, Mr. Bayne and himself had left the bar together, the accused, he said, locking the door of the premises with a padlock. He had left the Baynes at the Westholme Hotel, and then went up and met his wife at the St. James Hotel.

Witness said that he had had a non-intoxicating wine to drink while in the Victoria Bar. He swore that he had never seen any liquor sold there, although he had many times seen people buy soft drinks from the accused. He said that during the Summer months the premises were closed between 7 and 8 o'clock at night, and not opened until the following morning. Witness said that he had never seen either Bell or Ferris in the accused's premises.

William Farrell Called by Death
Prominent Vancouver Business Man, Head of B.C. Telephone Co., Succumbs to Heart Disease

VANCOUVER, Sept. 12.—Mr. William Farrell, head of the B. C. Telephone Company, and one of the leading business men of British Columbia, died this morning at his residence. He had been ill for 15 months of heart disease, and his death was not unexpected.

Probably no man in this Province is entitled to more credit for leadership in industrial enterprise and big business than William Farrell. He was 68 years old and had been in Vancouver more than 30 years. During most of that time he has been chief of the telephone company, and the commanding position of that concern is due very largely to his remarkable business sagacity and far-sightedness. It was William Farrell who planned and installed the cables between Vancouver City and Vancouver Island.

Born in Ireland, Mr. Farrell had an extensive business experience as a receiver of taxes in Newfoundland, Eng., and came to Vancouver in association with the business of the Yorkshire Guarantee Company. He was closely in touch with affairs of the B. C. Electric Railway during the early history of that enterprise, and finally resigned the management of the Yorkshire Guarantee Company to enter the cannery and fish brokerage business with Mr. A. E. Trent. He was later manager of the Bank of Hamilton when it was first established on Hastings Street. As far back as the early nineties he had bought an interest in what was then the New Westminster & Burrard Inlet Telephone Company, and upon the death of the chief owner, Dr. J. M. Lefevre, he became president of that company. For nearly two decades his business genius had been the directing authority in that undertaking, and he and Mrs. Lefevre have been the chief owners of the company.

Outside of his business, Mr. Farrell possessed many interests. He was an ardent sportsman and in his younger days often played cricket at Brockton Point. Ten years ago he stocked a fine farm at Lulu Island, and Guernsey cattle from this ranch were shown recently at the Vancouver exhibition.

His only son, Mr. Gordon Farrell, is secretary-treasurer of the B. C. Telephone Company. Mrs. Farrell and two daughters, Miss Kathleen Farrell and Miss Sheila, also survive him.

The funeral will be held on Thursday at 3 p.m. from St. Paul's Church to Mountain View Cemetery.

APPLES OF B.C. LEAD IN CANADA

Average of $8.65 Is Highest for the Dominion—Second in Production With 1,057,483 Barrels

Statistics compiled by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, Agricultural Branch, show that in point of value British Columbia apples were well ahead of any produced in the other apple growing provinces of Canada. The average value per barrel of apples grown in the Province of British Columbia was $8.65 in 1921, as against $10.12 in 1920. The reduction in value over 1920 was general throughout the Dominion. Ontario apples, at an average value of $7.74 per barrel, came next to those of British Columbia.

In point of production British Columbia stood second. Nova Scotia heads the list with 2,036,065 barrels. British Columbia's total was 1,057,483 barrels.

The Bureau publishes, subject to final revision, a bulletin showing for the year 1921 (1) the quantities and values of commercial apples produced in Canada, and (2) the varieties and value of fruit trees, bushes and plants sold by nurserymen in Canada. The data has been collected for the third year in succession by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics in co-operation with the Fruit Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture.

According to the information thus collected, the commercial production of apples in Canada was in 1921, 4,046,813 barrels, of the value of $29,898,649, as compared with 3,404,140 barrels, of the value of $29,898,649, in 1920, representing for 1921 an increase of 442,473 barrels in production and $49,000 in value.

British Columbia stands high by provinces the production and value was as follows: Nova Scotia, 2,036,065 barrels, value $13,478,750; in 1921, 1,660,000 barrels, value $10,931,420; in 1920, New Brunswick, 33,000 barrels, value $170,540 in 1921, 30,000 barrels, value $157,371 in 1920; Quebec, 35,300 barrels, value $281,328 in 1921, 38,000 barrels, value $269,688 in 1920; Ontario, 885,065 barrels, value $6,840,403 in 1921, 1,621,000 barrels, value $13,073,785 in 1920; British Columbia, 1,057,483 barrels, value $9,147,228 in 1921, 964,540 barrels, value $8,151,905 in 1920. The average value per barrel for Canada was $7.39 in 1921, as compared with $8.77 in 1920. By provinces, the average values per barrel were: Nova Scotia, $8.65 in 1921, as against $9.42 in 1920; New Brunswick, $5.18, against $5.76; Quebec, $7.14, against $6.47; Ontario, $7.74, against $8.06; British Columbia, $8.65, against $10.12 in 1920.

Nursery Stock
With a view to ascertaining as accurately as possible the quantities and values of nursery fruit trees, bushes and plants sold in Canada during the year ended September 30, 1921, schedules were issued to all fruit nurserymen in Canada. The replies received show that the total value of all nursery fruit stock sold in Canada during the year amounted to $496,272, as compared with $500,167 in 1920, and $270,818 in 1919. Of apple trees in 1921, 144,430 were sold, of the value of $209,178, as compared with 453,609, of the value of $206,286 in 1920, and with 308,419, of the value of $88,481 in 1919. For 1921 the apples were divided into early apples, 57,419, value $32,674; Fall apples, 94,167, value $55,392; Winter apples, 222,144, value $112,106; and crab apples, 12,859, value $4,676. The number and value of other descriptions in 1921 were as follows: Pears, 35,389, value $28,027; plums, 48,484, value $44,819; peaches, 45,642, value $25,426; cherries, 47,020, value $46,608; apricots, 442, value $88; blackberries, 40,542, value $2,937; value $1,151; value $12,848; grapes, 92,914, value $17,829; gooseberries, 68,236, value $16,946; raspberries, 497,833, value $27,963; loganberries, 42,100, value $7,365; strawberries, 5,959,187, value $36,207. The average wholesale price in cents per tree, bush or plant works out as follows: the corresponding price for 1920 given within brackets: Apples, 54 (45); pears, 79 (59); plums, 90 (65); peaches, 56 (46); cherries, 99 (68); apricots, 20 (46); blackberries, 7 (11); currants, 20 (17); grapes, 19 (17); gooseberries, 25 (21); raspberries, 6 (5); loganberries, 17 (22); strawberries, 1.18 per 100 (1.29).

Prices Are Higher
By number the sales are in nearly all cases less than last year, the exceptions being peaches, blackberries, grapes, loganberries and strawberries. Except for apricots, blackberries, loganberries and strawberries, the prices for 1921 are higher than in 1920. The total value is $3,895 less than last year, the smaller sales being counterbalanced to a large extent by the higher prices.

Ideals of Warriors Still to Be Realized, Says Ian Hamilton

General Ian Hamilton, has asked an interesting question: "Why is it?" he inquired, "that the two last successful wars, one against the Boers in South Africa and the other against the Germans, had such opposite results? How is it that the Boer war put an end to feuds, race-hatred, bankruptcies, disorders and bloodshed which had paralyzed South Africa for a generation, while the Great War, on the contrary, has inflicted race-hatred, bankruptcy and murder over the best part of the world, from Ireland to the Near East, and turned Central Europe into a seething cauldron of hate?"

And the general has answered his own question, which was propounded at the recent unveiling of a war memorial. "It is because our politicians entirely ignored the ideals of those to whom we have raised war memorials by making a vindictive instead of a generous peace," he said. "This is not the place to set forth what I think of the Versailles Treaty," the general continued. "All I can say is that in spite of it, the cause of peace is not yet lost if only you will fix your minds rather on the intentions of those boys to whom this beautiful memorial has been raised, than upon the acts which have frustrated those intentions."

FEAR BREEDS WAR, SAYS LORD CECIL

LONDON, Aug. 25.—(By Mail).—"When we come to analyze the situation closely we find that the fear of war is the beginning of unreason," said Lord Robert Cecil recently, discussing conditions in Europe. "Russia's apprehensions have been translated into vast armaments, with a view to reproductive work, ill-fed, ill-clothed, ill-disciplined, and consequently a greater menace to their friends or fellow-citizens than to their enemies."

"In France the fear of war has led to the establishment of those armies of occupation on the Rhine that are costing bankrupt Germany more than one million pounds a week—more than two thousand million marks."

"Fear of war is leading a section of public opinion in England to demand a vastly increased air service, and still further concentration upon scientific methods of slaughter. In all directions we find that knowledge is still harnessed to destruction; that the readiest means of money-making is to invent something that can destroy life and the products of life-energy faster than nature can replace them. Behind all these manifestations lies fear."

TELLS HOW PORTLAND SOLVED CAT TROUBLE

Mr. W. S. Baker and Miss Mary Baker Address Natural History Society of B.C.

How Portland, Oregon, has satisfactorily dealt with the cat-catcher and dog-catcher problems, was explained on Monday night by Mr. W. S. Baker, vice-president of the Humane Society, of Portland, to a well-attended meeting of the Natural History Society of British Columbia, held in the auditorium of the Girls' Central School. Mr. W. N. Kelly, president of the organization, officiated as chairman.

Mr. Baker said that for sometime the cat-catcher and dog-catcher methods of remedying the stray cats and dogs situation had not met with unanimous approval in the American city. The Humane Society in that place considered that it should attempt to solve the unsatisfactory state of things and take care of the question humanely.

The Humane Society called upon the city to turn over all rights in connection with the dog and cat-catcher systems. The organization took upon itself all obligations in the inauguration of a better service of doing away with the cat and dog nuisance. The speaker pointed out that Portland city collects the dog license, and 50 per cent of the amount thus collected is turned over to the Humane Association there. This organization therefore becomes the dog and cat police of Portland, and its share of the dog license collections aids it in accomplishing its work.

"We advertised in the press, and through advertising of many kinds, acquainted the citizens of Portland that any dogs or cats which they didn't want they should have taken away by just calling up the society, which would go and call for them. If they wanted to obtain either dogs or cats, their wishes would be gratified if they would only communicate with the organization by phone. And this service was entirely gratis and has proved most successful," Mr. Baker informed the meeting.

Birds of Northwest
An excellent lecture on "Birds of the Northwest" was given by Miss Mary Baker, who is a student at the University of Oregon. Miss Baker held her audience for over ninety minutes by her interesting account of 48,484 birds, value $44,819; peaches, 45,642, value $25,426; cherries, 47,020, value $46,608; apricots, 442, value $88; blackberries, 40,542, value $2,937; value $1,151; value $12,848; grapes, 92,914, value $17,829; gooseberries, 68,236, value $16,946; raspberries, 497,833, value $27,963; loganberries, 42,100, value $7,365; strawberries, 5,959,187, value $36,207. The average wholesale price in cents per tree, bush or plant works out as follows: the corresponding price for 1920 given within brackets: Apples, 54 (45); pears, 79 (59); plums, 90 (65); peaches, 56 (46); cherries, 99 (68); apricots, 20 (46); blackberries, 7 (11); currants, 20 (17); grapes, 19 (17); gooseberries, 25 (21); raspberries, 6 (5); loganberries, 17 (22); strawberries, 1.18 per 100 (1.29).

Vote of Thanks
In moving a vote of thanks, Mr. Frank Kermode, Provincial curator, said that all birds which Miss Baker had mentioned, with but two exceptions, could be found in British Columbia. In fact, 75 per cent of these birds are on Vancouver Island and Victoria.

Mr. A. R. Sherwood, who seconded the motion, which was carried with applause, said that Victoria has a cat menace. He pointed out that many birds had been destroyed by stray cats, and that protection of these flyers must be guaranteed. Cats are most dangerous between sunset and sunrise, during which time, he said, they should be given good beds and cared for properly by those keeping them. If any one wants cats, or wishes to get rid of them, all they have to do is to phone the S. P. C. A., who will see that their wishes are realized, he said.

The chairman announced that another meeting of the society will be held on Thursday next in the Provincial Library, when an address will be given by Mr. Harlan Smith, of Ottawa.

"DR. FOWLER'S"

Saved the Lives of Four Children

Diarrhoea, dysentery, cholera infantum and summer complaint are responsible for more deaths, especially among children, during the summer months than any other form of disease. According to statistics in the city of Toronto alone, in the past five years, out of 1,004 deaths of children from diarrhoea, 757 died during the four summer months. It therefore behooves every mother to look after her children with the first sign of any looseness of the bowels by using Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, a remedy that has been on the market for over 77 years, and has been proven to be the best there is.

Mrs. Harold Bellars, Penfield, N.B., writes: "Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry saved the lives of four of my children. When all other remedies failed, it stopped the vomiting and terrible diarrhoea with which they were troubled. I will always recommend it and always have a bottle on hand in case of emergency."

DEAN IS SPEAKER

Royal Society of St. George Resumed Meetings Last Evening, With Good Programme

An address by Dean Quainton on "Tennyson as Englishman and Patriot" formed the entertainment for the first part of the meeting of the Royal Society of St. George last evening when they reassembled for the first time since the holiday. The Dean showed how intense had been Tennyson's love of nature, of humanity, of flowers and scenery. It was his great love for what he saw that enabled him to describe so well these things which were the common heritage of all Englishmen. Tennyson had anticipated in his "Federation of the World," a movement which had struggled for expression in more universal way in this century. The second part of last night's meeting following a recess for refreshments, was taken up with a musical programme arranged by Mrs. Leach, among those taking part being Miss Connie Moore, Mrs. A. Wilton, Mr. Maurice Moss and Mr. J. P. Wood. All the items were greatly enjoyed.

The society meets twice monthly, on the second and fourth Tuesdays, and has already made out its syllabus up to Christmas. The first meeting of each month is devoted to a lecture or discussion of some matter of interest in the Empire, while the second meeting of each month the ladies take charge of the programme. Address by Sir Edmund Peers will speak at the first October meeting, and Dr. Talmie at the first November meeting.

ST. MARY'S SCENE OF BIG WEDDING

Miss Annie Wyles Becomes Bride of Mr. Harding Barrett-Lennard, of Vancouver

A big congregation filled St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay, last evening on the occasion of the wedding of Annie, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wyles, 1388 Begbie Street, and Mr. Harding Barrett-Lennard, of Vancouver, second son of Mr. W. Barrett-Lennard. It was a fully choral service, and Rev. G. H. Andrews, the rector, was the officiating clergyman. The church was massed with flowers, the altar holding vases of white chrysanthemums and asters, and the chancel screen being studded with flowers. Over the chancel step was a large arch hung with Virginia creeper, looped back with white chrysanthemums and asters. A similar arch spanned the centre aisle and the area reserved for the invited guests was marked by flower-twined pillars.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Lawrence Wyles, was very beautiful in her soft robes of ivory charmeuse, cut with classical simplicity, and the hem of the skirt sweeping the floor. The grace and dignity of Mrs. Wyles was emphasized by the train of Nile green French brocade, threaded with silver and gold. Twin vells of fine net depended from the head of orange blossoms bound to the hair, and loops of pearls formed the sleeves. Train and skirt were caught together at the hem with a sprig of orange blossom. A sheet of lilies was carried by the bride.

The very attractive bridesmaid, Miss Winnie Hastings, wearing a picture dress of pale gold satin veiled with crepe nylon, and a hat of pale gold net to match; while Miss Nellie Wyles, the bride's sister, wore a frock of white brocade and Spanish lace and a picture hat of silver. The bridesmaids and hat trimmings were of gold and silver grapes respectively, and big bouquets of mauve asters were carried.

The bride's mother was handsomely gowned in black crepe velvete, fluted gold filling the slashes in the sleeves and gold-embroidered panels being inset in the skirt. With this was worn a black turban with rosette of tulle outlined in jet sequins.

Mr. Charles Barrett-Lennard, a brother of the bridegroom, acted as best man, and the ushers were Mr. A. H. Woodluff, Mr. E. Dudley and Mr. Tom Winesley.

Mrs. Hamlet, a friend of the bride, sang "Love's Coronation" while the bride party were in the vestry signing the register. The other music during the service included the hymn, "Love Divine," and the two Wedding Marches from "Lohengrin" and by Mendelssohn.

The Reception

From the church a big party went to the home of the bride's mother, 1388 Begbie Street, for the reception which followed. During the early part of the evening Mr. and Mrs. Barrett-Lennard stood in an embrasure in the "den" while receiving the good wishes of their friends, and later took up a position in the dining room in the buffet supper.

The decorations of the house, which were very beautiful, were, like the decorations in the church, carried out under the personal direction of Mrs. P. M. Wright and Mrs. Robertson. The "den" was decorated with white chrysanthemums and sweet peas, while drawing-room and dining-room were effective with mauve and rose chrysanthemums. The bride and groom, under which the couple stood at this time, was made of sweet peas. Mauve candles in silver scones surrounded the wedding cake in the centre of the buffet. Toasts to the bride, bridesmaids, and the bride's mother were followed by a vocal solo by Mrs. Hamlet, and Miss Foote contributed some pianoforte selections.

Mr. and Mrs. Barrett-Lennard left last night for a motor honeymoon, intending to spend a few days at the bride's summer cottage at Brentwood before proceeding further north. They expect to be back in the city by Saturday, and will leave later for Vancouver, where they will be at home at Point Grey after December 1. The bride's going-away costume was a "Jenny" model coat-dress of black drapella, trimmed with military braid, with white velvete roll collar and bell cuffs, her hat being of black crepe faced with satin and carrying a Javelin ornament of silver.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. William Barrett-Lennard, Mrs. Bowden, all of Vancouver; and Mr. and Mrs. Creech, Miss Creech and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Barr, of Powell River.

The Rev. A. de B. Owen officiated at the marriage service last evening at the Reformed Episcopal Church, when Marjorie, daughter of Captain and Mrs. J. Goss, became the bride of Home Ferguson Lindsay-Alexander, son of the late James Marsden Lindsay-Alexander, and Mrs. Lindsay-Alexander, of this city. The ceremony, which was fully choral, was attended by a large number of friends of the bride and groom, and the church had been profusely decorated with summer flowers by friends of the bride, including Miss K. Boorman, Miss Della Fair, Mrs. F. Chandley and Miss Goss, who chose as their color scheme pink and white. An arch, fashioned of trailing greenery and flowers, was erected at the chancel steps, and furthered the charming effect.

The bride, who was lovely in her wedding gown of white kitten's ear satin, trimmed with pearls, and wearing the conventional veil, embroidered, and caught beneath a wreath of orange blossoms, was attended by her sister as bridesmaid, Miss Stella Goss, looking beautiful in a dress of pale apricot colored georgette, with radium lace panels and sleeves of the same in silver tone, with patches to match. The bride's bouquet was of Ophelia roses and maidenhair fern, and the bridesmaid's was composed of pink and mauve sweet peas. Little Miss Ellen Pendray, the witness, flower girl, wearing a pretty frock of mauve georgette over pink, trimmed with gold; she also wore a band of golden leaves around her fair hair, and carried a basket of pink sweet peas tied with a tulle bow. A picturesque and novel elbow bracelet of French flowers was the finishing touch to the flower girl's toilette. The groomsmen were Dr. Angus McGinnis.

The Reception

Following the ceremony the bride party and friends repaired to the home of the bride's parents, where a reception was held, invitations having been issued to about two hundred guests. The out-of-town guests included Captain and Mrs. T. S. Goss, the Misses Winifred and Lena Goss, Captain and Mrs. J. F. Goss, Mr. and Mrs. J. LeDrew, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Field, all of Vancouver; and Miss R. Alexander and Miss M. Alexander, both of Tacoma.

The drawing-room was most artistic with its wealth of decorations, sweet peas, roses and asters adding their loveliness to the ensemble. An arch composed of pink sweet peas and greenery, from which was suspended a wedding bell composed of white asters, was erected at one end of the room, and it was here that Mr. and Mrs. Lindsay-Alexander received the good wishes and felicitations of their numerous friends.

Refreshments were served in the dining-room, which was also decorated with sweet peas and asters, while the long table was centred with the handsome deep-red velvet wedding cake. Assisting in serving refreshments were the friends of the bride, among whom were Miss Edith Roff, Miss Eunice Gilman, Miss Agnes Reville, Miss Geraldine Dickson, Miss Eleanor Haddow and Miss Katie Boorman.

The young couple were the recipients of a large number of wedding gifts, the bride being presented with a mahogany case of community silver from the office staff of the Canadian Collieries (Dunsmuir), Ltd., of which she had been a member; a silver casket from the Victoria Business Girls' Club, and a silver cake plate from the Young People's Society of the church, among her other numerous gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Lindsay-Alexander will make their future home in Portland, Ore. The bride's traveling suit was a dress of copper-colored crepe, with which she wore a navy blue coat with squirrel collar and cuffs, and a smart navy blue hat trimmed with a silver ornament and ostrich plumes.

ESQUIMALT CHAPTER REVIEWS WORK OF THE PAST SUMMER

A well-attended meeting of the Esquimalt Chapter, I.O.D.E., the first since the holiday season, was held Monday at 8 p.m., at the Sailors' Club, Esquimalt, the Regent, Mrs. Croft, presiding. Reports from the officers showed that during the summer months monetary assistance had been given to the Social Service Society. The Girl Guides, Esquimalt, Secondary Education, the Esquimalt Summer Camp and also a subscription for The London News to be delivered to the Esquimalt High School.

An interesting report from the Summer camp held at the Lagoon in July stated that seventy-five children, with a daily average of fifty-eight, had been under canvas there, and, without exception, each one had received material benefit therefrom. A letter of appreciation was ordered to be sent to Dr. McCallum, to whose management and unremitting labor the success of the undertaking was largely due.

One new member, Mrs. Barclay, was admitted to the Chapter, and Mrs. Finlan was appointed Echoes secretary, with Mrs. N. P. Shaw

The marriage was quietly solemnized last night at St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay, by the Rev. Col. Andrews, between Inez, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. The bride looked very handsome in a white velvet dress, costume, with hat en suite, and carried a bouquet of roses and ferns. She was given in marriage by Mr. H. G. Scott. In the absence of her father, and was attended by her sister, Miss Violet Lewthwaite, as bridesmaid, who wore a navy blue tricot dress heavily embroidered, with hat to match. Wells-Macklin

A very pretty wedding took place on Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. Bailey, "Little Oaks," Elenkings Road, where the groom has been a resident for several years, when Rev. W. Stevenson officiated at the marriage between Miss L. Macklin, of Hollingham, and Mr. W. N. Wells. The bride was attired in a pale blue silk dress trimmed with lemon shaded silk and velvet, and was attended by two pretty flower girls, Miss Vera Bailey and Miss Lucy Shaw. YOUNG WOMEN WHO SUFFER

Letter Points Way Towards Relief—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Toronto, Ontario.—"I suffered from the time I was a school girl, until I had taken your medicine, with pain in my left side and with cramps, growing worse each year until I was all run down. I was so bad at times that I was unfit for work. I tried several doctors and patent medicines and was only relieved for a short time. Some of the doctors wanted to have an operation but my father objected. Finally I learned through my mother of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and how thankful I am that I tried it. I am relieved from pain and cramps and feel as if it has saved my life. You may use my letter to help other women as I am glad to recommend the medicine."

ST. LEGER IS TO BE RUN TODAY

Oldest of England's Classic Races Takes Place at Doncaster—History of the Great Turf Event

LONDON, Sept. 12.—With the running of the St. Leger Stakes at Doncaster tomorrow, the last of the five classics for three-year-olds that feature the flat racing season in England will have passed into turf history, and another milestone in the oldest of the races that are run over the flat in this country will have been passed.

Not only is the St. Leger the oldest of the great races that have been played since the first century, but it is also the only one that has been run over the same course since the time of the Romans. The race is run over a course of 1 mile, 6 furlongs, and 132 yards, and is the only one of the five classics that is run over a course of this length.

GARRISON TENNIS

Sergeants' Mess Club Wins Tournament From Yarrows—Return Is Arranged for Saturday

A most enjoyable afternoon was spent on the courts of the Garrison Sergeants' Mess at Work Point yesterday when the Garrison team defeated the Yarrows team in a friendly tennis tournament. Favored by lovely weather, the spectators, of whom there were upwards of sixty present, were treated to some excellent tennis, and although the Garrison players ultimately won by a fair margin, the majority of the games were very keenly contested and proved most interesting.

The ladies of the Garrison, by kindly providing tea and refreshments during the afternoon, contributed in no small measure to the success of the event, which proved so popular that a return game has been arranged for Saturday next.

The results of Saturday's play were as follows:

SUSANNE LENGLEN INTENDS TO RETIRE

PARIS, Sept. 12.—Susanne Lenglen has played her last singles tennis in tournament matches, she told friends today upon her return to Paris from Le Touquet, where she experienced a recurrence of the heart trouble to which she has been subject recently.

Ms. Lenglen has not lost a set this season. Her retirement, unless she changes her mind meantime, means that she will not defend her world title at Wimbledon in 1923.

Stakes. This state of things is all the more remarkable because in the preceding sequence of eight St. Leger only two favorites were beaten. The race at Doncaster has not been won by a favorite since Bayardo's year, 1909. Night Hawk and Polemarch, the winners in 1913 and 1921, respectively, were both quoted at odds of 50 to 1 against. Tracery won in 1912 at odds of 8 to 1 against; Black Jester in 1914 at odds of 10 to 1 against; Keynote in 1919 to 8 against; in 1919, and Calligula at 100 to 6 against in 1920.

LADIES PLAY GOLF FOR CHAMPIONSHIP

TORONTO, Sept. 12.—In spite of the almost ideal conditions today for the qualifying round of the Canadian ladies' open golf championship at the Toronto club, the scoring on the whole was larger than is customary for this event. With a par of 79, there were only sixteen players who turned in scores of better than 100, and some ladies who were expected to qualify failed to pass the test. Chief among these were Miss Molla McBride, who was defeated in the final last year by Miss Cecil Leitch, and Mrs. Poy, the Quebec champion. Eight players tied with 106 for fourth place in the qualifying round, and the tie was played off. Miss McBride was one of the eight, but was eliminated at the third hole by Mrs. Bridges, while the other three places being decided at the first hole and three other ladies being eliminated at the second.

Miss Sidney Pepler, Toronto, and Miss Ada Mackenzie, Ontario champion, led the field with scores of 84 and 85, respectively. The latter, with Mrs. W. Gavin, of the Huntercombe, England, club, one stroke behind. Miss Alex. Stirling, United States champion, tied for 92nd, and Mrs. Douglas Laird, of Winnipeg, were tied for fourth place with 87. Mrs. Laird, assisted by a handi-cap match with a net score of 16, Miss Pepler and Miss Bowes, of Baltimore, tied for second place with 87. Miss Mackenzie turned in a net of 78.

THISTLES WILL BE STRONG ON SOCCER FIELD THIS YEAR

The Thistles soccer club is going to be very much in the running this year, and will make a bold bid for the soccer honors of the city. The club is now in a strong position with the greater proportion of last year's lineup available and a number of skillful new players declaring their intention of throwing in their lot with the Thistles. A meeting of the club is to be held on Friday, at 8 p.m., in the Veterans of France headquarters, when it is asked that all members, prospective members and others interested in the Thistles will make it a point to be present.

GRASS HOCKEY CLUB WILL MEET TONIGHT

The fourth annual general meeting of the Victoria Grass Hockey Club takes place this evening at Christ Church schoolroom at 8 p.m. The president, Dean Qualton, will take the chair. It is hoped that a really representative gathering will come together at the several important topics are on the table among these being the question of Wednesday games, and election of officers. There will be a practice game next Saturday in Beacon Hill Park, when novices will be welcomed. It is hoped that the enthusiasm evinced last Saturday will be continued, and thus insure success for the coming season.

NANAIMO TRAPSHOOTING

NANAIMO, Sept. 12.—The Championship Cup for Nanaimo and district, put up by the Weeks Motor Co., was shot for and won by W. Martin, with 45 out of a possible 50 targets, at the last weekly shoot of the Nanaimo Gun Club. W. Hoggan was second with 43. Owing to a high wind blowing, good scoring was somewhat hampered.

In "A" Class, W. Martin won the Herald trophy with 23, tying James Gordon, making three wins each. In the shoot-off, Martin won out with 23.

In "B" Class, F. Greer won the Weeks trophy with 21, making nine wins out of eleven shots.

In "C" Class, A. Thompson won the D. Spencer, Ltd. trophy with 17. He also won the Fraser Ruffs gold medal for high aggregate in "C" Class.

W. Martin won the Ray Colclough trophy for high aggregate for the season.

The following were the individual scores out of a possible 50: W. Hoggan, 43; W. Martin, 45; J. Gordon, 40; A. Thompson, 34; T. Harrison, 33; C. Martin, 32; W. Thompson, 31; R. Hilt, 30; E. Fraser, 30; S. Freshly, 31; G. Horne, 29; W. Trevenen, 22; B. Park, 22.

FOOTBALL BOARD TO BE ELECTED

Will Have Full Control of Victoria Soccer, and All Entries Must Be Sent in Next Tuesday

Association football in Victoria will be governed this season by a football board instead of the old system of weekly meetings of delegates from the various clubs entered in the leagues. This was definitely decided at the meeting of the Victoria and District Football Association held last night in the Veterans of France rooms. This decision was the most important business transacted at the meeting, which also adopted the necessary alterations in the by-laws to conform with the constitution of the B.C.F.A.

Next Tuesday a meeting will be held at 8 p.m. in the Veterans of France headquarters, at which all clubs are asked to have delegates present, and the members of the board referred to above will be duly elected. Next Tuesday will also be positively the last date for the receiving of entries of clubs in the first, second and junior leagues. The fees will be $1.50 for first division clubs, $1 for second division clubs, and $1 for junior clubs. First and second division clubs also have to pay an affiliation fee of $10 each to the B.C.F.A. It is expected that play in the first division will be started on Saturday week.

PRINCESS PATS AND WEILERS TO MEET

Practice Soccer Game Will Be Played at Work Point Grounds This Afternoon

The Princess Pats Wednesday soccer team, which will make their initial entry into public soccer this season, will clash with Weiler's eleven today at Work Point at 3 p.m., with Charlie Faulkner as referee.

This game should be a good one, as it will be remembered that these two teams clashed in a friendly game last season, and Weiler's, at that time Wednesday League champions, only managed to defeat the Tommies by one goal, the score being 2-1 in favor of the Weiler eleven.

Although the game is only a practice match, each captain intends to march out his strongest team to see how the men are shaping for the coming season. Included on the Pats' lineup will be Cummings, the star outside right; the representative eleven, and Spier, also a member of the Victoria team on two or three occasions. The remainder of the team are all Wednesday men, with the exception of Ward, who last year was in senior company with the Garrison senior eleven.

Weiler's are reported to have a very strong team, with quite a few of their last year's players, and, should weather conditions be at all favorable, quite a crowd of spectators will no doubt be on hand to see these teams clash.

Reg Hincks has a good show. With the potted comic opera, "The Girl From Tokio" as a feature he has a sparkling, tuneful and amusing combination which the excellent company of players have done with great success. In addition to the feature part, the variety number includes Miss Justine Gilbert, violinist, "Too Bad," a domestic episode in one act, with Eunice Campbell, Bun Hobday and Ernie Petch in the cast, and also Ernie Petch in a highly amusing monologue with which he has made a host of friends. Special favor has been bestowed on the "Yiddish" sketch which Mr. Petch sings, but a revival of a very popular number included among the list presented by the "Dumbells" when he was one of their cast.

The members of the Show Number 3 include: Justine Gilbert, Eunice Campbell, Eileen Allwood, Peggy Lewis, Bob Webb, Herbert Kent, Bun Hobday, Jack and Ernie Petch and Reginald Hincks.

Engagement commences tonight, curtain at 8:30 and each night of the week, with a matinee on Saturday at 2:30.

DOMINION Vegetables in all stages of growth from tiny blades of green to full grown plants were assembled for the filming of many of the scenes in "Nice People," William de Mille's latest Paramount picture, which will be seen at the Dominion Theatre all this week. Several weeks before production work started, a gardener was detailed to plant boxes full of various vegetables. Two weeks later another crop was planted and each succeeding fortnight this process was repeated. Thus, vegetables in all stages of development were available at a moment's notice. This procedure was made necessary by the story in which an abandoned farm is revived and made productive. Scenes in the story record the progress of this work. It was obviously impossible to halt production while the vegetation grew. By the process finally adopted, it was possible to transplant this vegetation between scenes and present in the finished picture a record of gradual growth and development. "Nice People" boasts of an all-star cast headed by Wallace Reid, Bebe Daniels, Conrad Nagel and Julia Faye. The story was adapted for the screen by Clara Beranger from the stage play by Rachel Crothers. The story is romantic and thrilling.

CAPITOL Even in these days, all theatre is not contraband that wears a bonded label. Albert S. LeVine, author of the screen version of "The Bonded Woman," the Paramount feature starring Betty Compson, now playing at the Capitol Theatre, had a man from the Internal Revenue Collector's office to the Lasky studio to see him about an adjustment in his income tax. Their conference over Mr. LeVine took Uncle Sam's agent for a walk about the studio. Suddenly the "revenue" stopped and with a wicked glint in his eye, pointed and exclaimed: "What's that doing here?" Mr. LeVine's agent, who had been a number of cases of trade-mark gin and bonded whisky piled in a corner. He started to stammer explanations—then walked out, picked a bottle from the open case, took out the cork and held it under the collector's nose.

ROYAL VICTORIA Among the queerest cases of wrong identification resulting from the fatality of the late war is that of Joe Peters, and the oddest part of it all is that the impersonation of another character was done deliberately. While it might sound even more strange, the truth is that the impersonation was made to further a worthy cause. Such apparent contradictions form the basis of the after-the-war drama of tender emotions and heart throbs presented by Richard Barthelmess in his latest starring picture at the Royal Victoria Theatre, "Sonny." In his role of Joe Peters, a waterfront and pool-room character, the star assumes the identity of Sonny Crosby, action of an aristocratic family, who had been a fatality in the war. How this unique situation works itself out in a tender and human story of mother love and romance is unfolded at the Royal Victoria Theatre. Barthelmess, noted for the simple effectiveness of his acting, portrays some of his finest moments in this drama of life.

This Attraction Comes to the Royal Victoria on Monday Next.

COLUMBIA You perhaps believe that money does not fit a person for entrance to "select society circles." You may think, too, that if a man has been, say, a peddler, or a man's father made his money by hawking goods from store to store, he has no chance of being accepted into the aristocracy of some of our society folks? Memory records such occupations as peddler, miner, grocery clerk, tanner, ferryman, and will you not admit that the money they accumulated opened the way for their children to get into society? Questions similar to these come to mind in the new Fox picture, "Without Fear," showing at the Columbia for the last time today. In this, aristocracy is hard hit and falls before the rising American youth of industry but no pedigree. It shows, too, that even the rules of society do not prevent the "female of the species"—the society species—taking her mate from democracy's ranks.

"FOOLISH WIVES"
SHOWS AT ROYAL ON MONDAY NEXT

On Monday, September 18, there will be presented at the Royal Victoria one of the most magnificently staged moving pictures that has ever been made, and it is easy to believe that more than a million dollars was spent on its production. "Foolish Wives" is beyond criticism.

With the wonderful replica of noted sporting resorts of the old world, marvelous architecture, and the ecstatic thrill of the American youth of life faithfully portrayed with a touch of star dust from a spiritual plane, the distinctively artistic composition is a daring episode of life as it is lived in certain strata. The most villainous villain that ever stalked the promenade of Monte Carlo will present a character that you will love to hate. Erich von Stroheim's delineation of the part of villain is a masterpiece, as is also his direction of the picture.

Standing next to him in artistic achievement come Duke Fuller and Maude George. Miss Dupont is quite the type for the role and Rudolph Valentino gives a convincing performance. "Foolish Wives" provides no opportunities for solo. It makes no particular attempt to play on the emotions. It is as perfect in an artistic way as "The Abner of Dr. Caligari," but Von Stroheim goes a step farther in the right direction and discovers a number of loopholes for comedy and in pointing out quite a happy philosophy of life.

The presentation of this great dramatic production during the week of September 18 to 23 promises to break all records for attendance at the Royal Victoria.

WILLIAM FARNUM'S "SHACKLES OF GOLD" COMES TO COLUMBIA

How did William Farnum get into motion pictures? The neat little sum of $14,000 did it. Later, when Col. Selig read Rex Beach's story, "The Spoilers," he said to Beach: "I'd like to make a picture of 'The Spoilers'." "All right," answered Beach, "if you can get William Farnum to play the leading role." Beach did, and Farnum, just back from a triumphant theatrical tour, said "NO." He wouldn't be bothered with pictures. Beach told Selig. Selig said: "I'll give him $14,000 to do it. Tell him that." Beach did. Farnum laughed—$14,000 for a few weeks' work! Somebody was spoofing! Beach insisted that Selig made the offer. It was unheard of in those days.

KERSHAW TRIAL IN CITY POLICE COURT

Hearing of Charge of Selling Liquor at Empress Hotel Begins—Will Be Continued This Morning

The trial of Jack Kershaw, who is charged with "unlawfully selling intoxicating liquor at the Empress Hotel on the night of Friday, July 7, commenced yesterday morning in the city police court, before Magistrate Jay. The prosecution witnesses were heard, while the defence had but submitted little evidence when the lunch hour was reached. The case was adjourned until yesterday afternoon, but as the Magistrate was engaged in the Small Debts Court, it was postponed for further hearing until this morning.

Plea of not guilty by the accused was entered when his case was previously called in the police court. Kershaw is being represented by Mr. Ernest Miller, while the Crown counsel in the case is Mr. Richard C. Lowe.

Evidence for the prosecution was furnished by Kenneth M. LeChance and Carl Ledoux, two stool pigeons in the employ of the Government Liquor Board. The former told of having registered on July 7 at the Empress Hotel in room 110 with Ledoux, his fellow constable. Witness said that he had spoken to Kershaw that night about 12:30 o'clock (daylight saving time) and had asked him if he could get him a bottle of liquor. He said he had consulted Ledoux, who agreed with him that whisky would be all right. Witness alleged that he then told Kershaw to go ahead and get the liquor and bring it up to his room.

Tells of Alleged Purchase
LeChance said that the accused a short time later brought the whisky to his room, where he handed Kershaw, he testified, $3 (three $1 bills and a 15c) for the bottle of Black and White Scotch whisky. "We opened the bottle, and gave a drink to Kershaw, Ledoux, a porter, while I also had one," witness admitted. Then Kershaw, after LeChance had secured his name, left the hotel room, witness said.

Witness had previously stated that he had talked to the porter who was at the taxi entrance to the hotel that night, and from him had learned of Kershaw, whom he had approached with a view of getting a bottle of whisky, he admitted upon Mr. Miller's cross examination. LeChance stated that he didn't know the name of the porter.

"Is it your practice to invite young fellows into your room and there give them strong drink?" Kershaw is only twenty years of age," declared Mr. Miller.

"I usually take off a job with a little polish," replied LeChance.

"If the accused had had three more drinks, there would have been more polish, wouldn't there?" queried the defence counsel again.

"Well, I probably then would have known where his stock was," witness answered, who then asked the court that the price of the liquor was first mentioned in LeChance's room.

A Bona Fide Agent
Mr. Miller asked LeChance whether he was a bona fide insurance agent. "Yes, I am, and I am willing to write up insurance," said LeChance.

Magistrate Jay asked the witness if he knew what the term "bona-fide" signified.

"Yes, for an insurance agent to procure business," retorted witness, who added that "if you have a different meaning, I would be glad to hear it."

"I think it means 'good faith,'" His Honor said.

"Did I not secure my appointment as an insurance agent on good faith?" LeChance inquired of the court.

"You obtained it by deception," Magistrate Jay affirmed.

The second witness for the prosecution was Carl Ledoux, the other stool pigeon. He told of having gone downstairs from his room in the hotel and meeting Kershaw, who, he said, brought the bottle of whisky up to room 110. He thought that the accused had had two drinks there. He said that the price of liquor had been fixed at $3 and that he didn't inquire as to the hotel porter's name.

Carl B. Olsen, who is in charge of the autos at the Empress Hotel, said that Kershaw was employed as a driver, and was on the night shift, that is from 6 p.m. to 3 a.m., on the night in question. He said that a checking system is used by the taxi company, by which the time when a driver leaves on a job and returns is registered. Kershaw, he said, was on continuous duty on the evening of July 7. Mr. Olsen stated that none of his employees are allowed to go up to the rooms in the hotel, or even as far as the news stand in the building, without permission.

The porter, Holmes by name, was in charge of the cars and drivers on July 7, and "unless Kershaw and he had framed it up between them," the accused was busy at work at the time of the alleged offence, witness declared.

At this stage of the trial, adjournment for lunch was ordered. The hearing of the case will be resumed in the police court this morning.

CROP CONDITIONS
Beneficial Showers During August Greatly Aided All Crops (Crops in British Columbia)

A bulletin on crop conditions in Canada at the end of August, issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, Agricultural Branch, gives the following information in reference to British Columbia: Department of Agriculture: "Beneficial showers during August greatly aided all root crops. Owing to continued drought during June and July yields will fall short of last year. Oats and wheat nearly all harvested; due to light hay crop considerable was out green for feed. All varieties of apples being marketed in excellent condition, but the market is very unsteady and lower prices prevailing."

There are 3,853 bunks on Ellis Island provided with two blankets apiece.

TIDEWATER PLANT
SOON REOPENING
Mill at Mine on Sidney Inlet Will Shortly Resume Operations Turning Out Concentrates

The mill at the Sidney Inlet mine owned by the Tidewater Copper Company will recommence operations within the next week or so, Mr. S. P. Moody, local representative of the company, stated yesterday. While development work at the mine has been going on all summer, the concentration plant has been shut down since June owing to lack of water to develop the necessary power.

Seventeen men have been kept at work at the mine since June, and sufficient ore has been blocked out to insure a sufficient supply for at least five years, Mr. Moody says. Not only has this amount of ore been uncovered, but it runs one per cent higher in copper than that mined in the past, which means that it also runs higher in other values. Added to these reassuring factors is that of a rising price for copper, it now having reached fourteen cents per pound.

A full crew for the Sidney Inlet plant will leave here on October 10. There will be from sixty-five to seventy-five men employed there when they arrive. The first shipment of concentrates to the Tacoma smelter, following the reopening of the mill, will probably take place about October 20, and about 200 tons of concentrates will leave every twenty days.

Alterations to the flumes will increase the water power, while reconstruction work is being done to the head house and towers of the aerial railway, for which a new cable is being provided.

The Tidewater Copper Company asked the Government Employment Bureau two weeks ago to supply thirty men, composed of skilled and unskilled labor. Only one application for a job resulted. It was found necessary to secure the skilled labor in Vancouver, while the unskilled men were obtained locally, but apart from the Employment Bureau, the company is paying $4.25 per day for skilled labor and $3.75 to $4 for unskilled labor. The charge for board is $1 per day.

FEDERAL MINISTER TO SPEAK TO LIBERALS

Hon. J. H. King to Attend Meeting on Friday Night—Delegates to Convention Will Be Named

Local Liberals are busy preparing for sending a delegation from this city to the forthcoming Provincial Liberal convention to be held at Nelson on September 28 and 29, and steps to that end will be taken at the meeting to be held on Friday evening at Liberal headquarters.

Whether it will be possible to have Victoria represented by a full delegation of forty is a question which has not yet been settled, but it is likely that the number will be considerably less than that.

Word has been received here that Federal ministers will be present at the convention, it being the desire of Premier Mackenzie King to have them at the meeting.

Each Provincial constituency is entitled to send one delegate to the convention, a minimum of ten, Vancouver's representation, however, is fixed at sixty and Victoria's at forty, these being plural ridings.

In addition to the convention matter, Friday's meeting will be marked by the presence of Hon. J. H. King, Minister of Public Works, who will be in the city on his first visit since he was elevated to a Federal portfolio.

The Minister will be the guest of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce at a citizens' luncheon at the Empress Hotel on Friday, at 12:15 noon. Tickets for the luncheon may be secured at the office of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau, the Chamber of Commerce and at Messrs. O'Connell's, Limited, Dan Poupard and Cochran's Drug Store.

REORGANIZED TO

FIGHT VACCINATION

Pamphlet of Provincial Board of Health Looked Upon as Possible Prelude to Campaign

Interpreting pamphlets issued by the Provincial Government on vaccination as a possible prelude to a campaign for vaccination, members of the Victoria Anti-Vaccination Society, which has held in the past several years, met last night at the Trades Hall to revive the society. Owing to the fact that the books of the society were not located until the afternoon, it was impossible to get in touch with many of the members, but there was a fair attendance.

The Rev. Wm. Stevenson, who presided, called attention to the pamphlet issued by the Provincial Board of Health, entitled, "Facts About Vaccination." One of the reasons for reviving the society, he said, was because of the recent activity of the Provincial Board of Health in this direction. To those who had studied the question, the statements published in the book about vaccination appeared somewhat overdrawn, and would tend to mislead. He did not think there was any intention to do so, but members of the medical profession sometimes, influenced by prejudices, were led to make statements which could not always be supported by facts. The Government was only within its rights when it gave people facts about vaccination, but his contention was that it was hardly right to publish such statements as contained in the pamphlet in view of the fact that there was considerable objection to vaccination in the Province. The speaker referred to the activities of the society when it was first formed, and said that at that time it had a very large membership.

Mr. Oscar Baas was elected president of the society, and Ald. E. J. Woodward vice-president. Dr. T. Mercer was elected first vice-president, Mrs. Crane second vice-president, and Mrs. Seymour third vice-president. Dr. Eilers was elected chairman of the executive, of which Mr. Philbrook was also elected a member. The remainder of the executive will be chosen at a future meeting. Mr. H. H. Hollins was elected secretary-treasurer.

Plans for meetings during the visit of Dr. Hadden next month were discussed.
